

Case Study

The Elizabethan High School

Retford

Helen McGill is KS4 Coordinator in Science at The Elizabethan High School in Retford. All the BTEC teachers in her school use Boardworks resources extensively in their teaching with their interactive whiteboards.

Helen comments: “I use Boardworks BTEC software in every lesson. We’ve also put it on our VLE so the students can access it for their coursework.” Helen feels that the resources save her time when planning lessons. She can integrate Boardworks presentations with her own material, and finds the PowerPoint format very easy to use.

Helen says: “I like the format: it’s bright and eye-catching, which really helps students’ learning.”

But Helen thinks the best thing about her Boardworks resources is the interactivity. “The students love coming up to the board and doing the quizzes. The software gets the kids up and using it, and thinking for themselves. They’re really great products.”
